It's the End of the World As I Know It by Matthew Landis

Ever since his mother was killed in the line of duty in Iraq, Derrick has been certain that the apocalypse is coming. And he's prepared- he's got plenty of canned goods, he's fully outfitted with HAZMAT suits, and he's building himself a sturdy fallout shelter. When his neighbor Misty insists on helping with the shelter, Derrick doesn't think it's such a good idea. As the promised apocalypse day begins with a very strange disaster, Derrick and Misty have to figure out a way to survive--especially when the end of the world as they know it looks nothing like they expected.

Riders by Veronica Rossi

For Gideon, nothing but death can keep him from achieving his goal of becoming a U.S. Army Ranger. As it turns out, it does. Recovering from the accident that most definitely killed him, Gideon finds himself with strange new powers. He has become War, one of the four horsemen of the apocalypse. He and the other horsemen are brought together by a beautiful, secretive girl to help save humanity from an ancient evil. If he stands any chance of saving all of humankind, he needs to convince the skeptical government officials the world is in imminent danger. But will anyone believe him?

The Last Kids on Earth by Max Brallier

Ever since the monster apocalypse hit town, Jack Sullivan has been living in his tree house—which he's armed to the teeth with catapults and a moat, not to mention video games and an endless supply of Oreos and Mountain Dew scavenged from abandoned stores. But Jack alone is no match for the hordes of Zombies, Winged Wretches, and Vine Thingies—and especially not for the eerily intelligent monster known only as Blarg. So Jack builds a team of friends—with their help, he's going to slay Blarg and achieve the ultimate Feat of Apocalyptic Success! Can he do it?

Ashes by Ilsa J. Bick

An electromagnetic pulse (EMP) flashes across the sky, destroying every electronic device, wiping out every computerized system, and killing billions. When it happened, Alex was hiking in the woods to say good-bye to her dead parents and her personal demons. Now, desperate to find out what happened after the pulse crushes her to the ground, Alex meets up with Tom—a young soldier—and Ellie, a girl whose grandfather was killed by the EMP. For this improvised family, and the others who are spared, it's now a question of who can be trusted—and who is no longer human.

BZRK by Michael Grant

Charles and Benjamin Armstrong, conjoined twins and owners of the Armstrong Fancy Gifts Corporation, have a goal: to turn the world into their vision of utopia. No wars, no conflict, no hunger. And no free will. Opposing them is a guerrilla group of teens, code name BZRK, who are fighting to protect the right to be messed up—to be human. This is no ordinary war, though. Weapons are deployed on the nano-level. The battleground is the human brain. And there are no stalemates here: it's victory . . . or madness.

A sudden zombie epidemic turns a sleepover at Zack Clarke's house into a level three creep-over! Zack's sister is now a zombie. His living dead, flesh-eating neighbors have wrecked his house—and he's been left to fend them off with his sister's snotty BFF, Madison. Luckily Zack's nerdy pal Rice has a plan to defeat the undead... if these three zombie chasers can make it out alive.

Zombies Vs. Unicorns by Holly Black and Justine Larbalestier

HS ZOM
860L

It's a question as old as time itself: which is better, zombie or unicorn? In this anthology, arguments are made for both sides in the form of short stories. Half of them portray the strengths—for good and evil—of unicorns, and half show the good (and really, really badass) side of zombies. Contributors include many bestselling teen authors, including Cassandra Clare, Libba Bray, Maureen Johnson, Meg Cabot, Scott Westerfeld, and Margo Lanagan. This anthology will make you ask: Team Zombie or Team Unicorn?

Dread Nation: Rise Up by Justina Ireland

HS IRELAND, J.
