Meeting Room Use

It is the policy of the Library Board of Trustees to provide meeting room space free of charge to Villa Park and Oakbrook Terrace residents for educational purposes or for administrative activities of non-profit associations and community groups. It is the intent of the Library Board of Trustees to create a limited public forum for these purposes only.

Permission to use meeting or conference rooms does not imply endorsement, support, or co-sponsorship by the library of the group's policies or beliefs or activities. As such, the library excludes the use of its facilities:

- For meetings promoting a specific candidate (or a slate of candidates) for office or promoting the support of, or opposition to, a proposition to appear on the ballot in an upcoming election.
- For activities and materials that a reasonable person would believe to be an endorsement of religion or religious belief by the library.
- By groups for social gatherings (such as showers, birthday parties, dances, etc.).
- For activities and materials that a reasonable person would believe are defamatory, invade another person's privacy, or directly incite violence.

In most instances, the sale, advertising, solicitation, or promotion of products or services is not allowed in library meeting or conference rooms. Entry and participation fees are not permitted. However, the Friends of the Library fundraising efforts may include sales when all net proceeds benefit the Villa Park Public Library. In addition, products and services offered by Library-authorized presenters whose products/services relate to the subject matter of the presentations may be offered.

All workshops or seminars on financial, estate, or retirement planning and related topics will be considered "for-profit" ventures and therefore, sponsoring groups or individuals will not be permitted to use the library meeting rooms. Educational programs by professionals (e.g. physicians, financial planners, attorneys, etc.) are permitted only when sponsored as a "library program." Applications to present an educational program may be made to library programming staff members via the online programming proposal form.

Meeting rooms may not be used for activities likely to disturb regular library business or functions. The library reserves the right to stop meetings that become disruptive to normal library operations.

The priority use of the meeting and conference rooms of the library will be for:

- Library-sponsored meetings or programs
- Friends of the Villa Park Library-sponsored meetings or programs

- Meetings of the Village of Villa Park trustees or staff and other agencies and units of government
- Meetings of Villa Park community groups and non-profit organizations

Access to Meetings

Library personnel must have free access to meeting rooms at all times. The library retains the right to monitor all meetings conducted on the premises to ensure compliance with library regulations. Groups may not block off windows or lock meeting room doors. No organization or group may charge admission to those attending a meeting or function unless funds are being raised for the library.

Activities held in the library are subject to the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Groups and organizations must comply with applicable ADA requirements when using library meeting rooms.

Reservations

After library-related meetings have been scheduled, other individuals and groups may apply on a "first come, first served" basis, but no more than one month in advance. An application must be submitted at least three business days prior to the meeting.

An application for use of the meeting room must be completed by a representative of the organization who is a Villa Park or Oakbrook Terrace resident, 18 years of age or older. An adult shall be present in the room to supervise any and all youth through high school age.

Completed applications will be filed and reviewed by the Library Business Manager.

The library reserves the right to change or cancel meeting room reservations.
